

SPLASH POETRY

#splashpoetry #syracuse #posterproject #rainworks

- | | | | |
|----|--|----------------------------------|--|
| 1 | Stroll the town parade
Bar hops, coffee shops, bus stops
Times when friends are made |
Pearl Baldwin
2005 | Installed on the corner of Walton and South Franklin Street in Armory Square, between Freedom of Espresso and Subway. |
| 2 | From my little seat
in a glass box full of books
I watch clouds go by. |
Ralph Long Jr.
2004 | Installed on South Salina Street near the Downtown Library, between the Post Office and the parking garage entrance. |
| 3 | Long drive, weary eyes
Cityscape lights the night sky –
Syracuse, I'm home! |
Claire Bobrycki
2003 | Installed at corner of South Franklin Street and West Water Street, in front of Café Kubal |
| 4 | Onondaga Lake
shoreline; a nesting hotbed.
Make way for goslings. |
Molly English
2004 | Installed on West Jefferson Street across from The MOST, between parking garage entrance and Industry. |
| 5 | Canal side commerce
briefcase, balloon, umbrella
echoes of past steps |
Ross Getman
2017 | Installed at Flowscape, corner of East Fayette Street and South Salina Street, across from Rite Aid in front of Original Grain. |
| 6 | Like the red lotus
I bloom from mud. A symbol for struggle; new life |
Kali Huff
2008 | Installed on South State Street across from Justice Center, between the American flags and Court House. |
| 7 | Sleeping streets awake
In the faint whisper of night.
A distant dog barks. |
Thea St. Omer
2014 | Installed corner of East Jefferson Street and Montgomery Street, in Columbus Circle, next to Cathedral of Immaculate Conception. |
| 8 | Before brick – laid streets
Before hand – dug waterways
This was good swampland |
Tom Huff
2012 | Installed on Montgomery Street across from Onondaga Historical Society, between YMCA and Masonic Temple. |
| 9 | Community builds bridges of thought between us.
Hope for the future. |
Sara Parrott
2012 | Installed on corner of South Warren Street and East Water Street in Hanover Square, in front of fountain. |
| 10 | Emptiness echoes around monuments. A man
remembers shadows. |
Bryan Wilbur
2003 | Installed at corner of North Salina Street and Erie Blvd. East in Clinton Square, between water fountains and curb. |

Downtown Syracuse

KEY:

 = rain haiku installations

Map taken from Syracuse's Tomorrow's Neighborhoods Today website (2012)